

Prof. LUIGI PRINCIPATO

 lpincipato@principatorraro.it

Luigi Principato is Professor of Constitutional and Public Law at the University of Tuscia. He is a member of the teaching staff of the doctoral programme "European and Global Market Law. Crisis, Rights and Regulation", he is the author of numerous essays, including monographs, on political representation, constitutional justice, competition and constitutional rights, with particular reference to social rights and the implementation of the principles of freedom and substantive equality.

He is a member of the editorial board of "Giurisprudenza costituzionale" and he directs "Diritto e Salute. Review of health and medical responsibility".